

SHAME ON YOU, WYETH

(PART TWO)

Wyeth Pharmaceutical petitioned the FDA to ban bio-identical estriol.
Over 70,000 doctors, women, and others asked the FDA to say no.
The FDA sided with Wyeth.

Meanwhile, Wyeth has advertised its own product containing bio-identical estriol in Europe.

Wyeth ads there have described bio-identical estriol as “an ideal therapy” for menopause.*

So which is it, Wyeth?

Why is bio-identical estriol ideal for European women but unsafe for American women?

Why do you want to force your synthetic hormones, proven to be dangerous, on American women?

The final decision on hormone medications should be made by a woman and her doctor — not by federal bureaucrats or drug company executives.

Support H. Con. Res. 342 and S. Con. Res. 88

Visit our website for more information

The Right Of The Consumer To Choose And The Practitioner To Practice.
www.healthfreedom.net